

A nne Roddy

received her law degree from the University of Richmond School of Law. Anne is a past president of the Chesterfield Bar Association, she has served on the Richmond Bench Bar, and has drafted continuing legal education materials. Anne sits on judicial interview committees, representing local bar associations.

In practice, Anne Roddy represents parents and family members in divorce, custody, and visitation matters. Anne handles adoptions and contested parental rights cases. Anne appears in the Circuit Court and Court of Appeals drafting briefs and participating in oral arguments.

"I have handled countless matters acting as a guardian ad litem for minor children, as defense attorney for children and adults, as well as counsel for parents, and for grandparents, and other third party petitioners. I have appeared in divorce, custody and visitation matters, delinquency cases, protective order hearings, Department of Social Services cases, and in contested adoption matters. My cases have involved juvenile court appearances through to appellate court arguments."

Anne looks forward to working with your family.
