

Recognizing Melissa VanZile & Irene Constance Delcamp for their dedication to family law

Melissa VanZile joined Barnes and Diehl in 2013 and is a shareholder in the firm. She has practiced exclusively family law for almost 18 years. A 2001 graduate of the University of Mary Washington, she earned her law degree from the University of Richmond in 2004.

Melissa has served as President of the Metropolitan Richmond Women's Bar Association where she continues to be a member. She has also been a member of the Richmond, Henrico, and Chesterfield Bar Associations. She has been listed in Virginia Super Lawyers every year since 2012. In 2018, Melissa was named as one of the Top 50 Women attorneys in Virginia. In 2016, she was selected as a Leader in the Law by Virginia Lawyers Weekly. She has been listed in Best Lawyers in America under family law since 2017.

Melissa has written and lectured extensively on family law, including presentations to the Richmond Bench-Bar Conference. She is a strong advocate for her clients in and out of the court room. She resides with her husband and two children.

Irene Constance Delcamp is a shareholder with Barnes & Diehl, P.C. She has practiced law for over 16 years, 15 years of which have been with Barnes & Diehl, where she is dedicated to her practice of solely family law matters. Active in the legal community, Irene served as President of the Chesterfield Bar Association in 2020-21. In October 2021, she received the honor of being recognized as one of Virginia Lawyers Weekly's Leaders in the Law. Irene was named a Super Lawyer by her peers as well in 2021. Her experience on numerous boards (the Virginia Bar Association's Domestic Relations Council as well as the Metropolitan Richmond Women's Bar Association) also distinguishes Irene from her peers.

With her practice of law focused on reaching pragmatic solutions outside of court, Irene also litigates aggressively for her clients in the courtroom. Specifically, she litigates property division, child support, spousal support, custody, visitation, modification proceedings, protective orders, and all other matters related to family law. Irene also has ample experience negotiating property settlement agreements involving all aspects of separation and property division.

Irene graduated with a degree in Government from the University of Virginia and attended the University of Richmond School of Law. A compassionate and zealous advocate for families, she is a mother of three children, including twins.
